DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on May 21, 2005 has been entered.

Claim Objections

Claim 16 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 1-3, 18, 24, and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Instant claim 1 has been amended to delete a formula step for identifying in former step (C) and no indicates identifying without setting forth any metes and bounds of such identifying.

Regarding claims 2 and 3, the formula is not full described as to parameters therein, such as "K" etc. The applicant has responded to this statement by stating that the statement $k \in \{1, \dots, K\}$ implies that K is the total number of dimensions in the multidimensional space. The Examiner disagrees. This statement only defines k , however it does not define K . Although the mathematical meaning of "K" is clear, the metes and bounds of this total number is unclear. In addition, the applicant cites Paragraph [0016] of the specification to demonstrate the metes and bounds of "K". However, the cites portion of the specification only describes what "K" could be, but does give any boundaries to the value of "K".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Consideration of the "Computer-Related Inventions" section of the MPEP at section 2106, Part IV, subpart B, has revealed that the instant claims are directed to non-statutory subject matter without requiring performance of a result outside of a computer. Thus the manipulation of data or conversion of data, in this case, classifying genes, is the claimed subject matter without any physical transformation outside the computer.

Art Unit: 1631

Applicant has amended instant claim 4 to include the step of identifying a gene as linked to a cellular phenotype. However the identification of a gene is simply data annotation and remains a form of data manipulation. Thus, instant claims 4-6 are non-statutory.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 23 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cabib et al. (US 5,578,162).

This rejection is maintained from the previous office action.

Although the Applicants have amended claims 13 and 14 to overcome the prior art, the applicants have not amended claim 23 or objected to the rejection. Thus, the rejection of claim 23 is maintained from the previous office action.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 11-15 and 17 are allowed.
